JULY MEETING

The July meeting will include a hands-on workshop for doing genealogical research via the internet. Lori Belongia, the Adult Resources Librarian at the Marshfield Public Library will be conducting this workshop for the members and any interested persons from the public.

Lori will show us several different types of ways to use the internet in conducting research and how easy it is to use as well as saving us many miles of wear and tear on our cars as well as our bodies.

To help you prepare for the workshop, you should look back through the following issues and pages of Kith and Kin to become familiar with some of the different sources available to search by using the internet:

Vol. 14	Iss. 2	Pg. 6,7
Vol. 14	Iss. 3	Pg. 2
Vol. 14	Iss. 4	Pg. 5,6,7
Vol. 14	Iss. 5	Pg. 5,6
Vol. 15	Iss. 2	Pg. 4

Pick out 2-3 different addresses of genealogical information that interest you and bring them to the workshop. Also bring along some of your basic research tools and information, such as a pedigree chart with surnames, births, deaths, places, etc. to aid you in your search.

The meeting will be held in the Marshfield Public Library, starting in the upstairs Conference Room promptly at 7:00 p.m. and moving out to the computer terminals around 8:00 p.m.

The August activity planned for the group is a fieldtrip to the Wisconsin State Historical Library, Madison. Tentative date is Thursday, August 13th. Contact Lorraine Markee if interested.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members:

This begins a new year 1998/99 and so we have some different people as officers, etc. A new vice president and secretary as well as program chairperson. "Thanks" to all of you for stepping forward to serve. I also wish to "thank" Betty Schuster and Sherry Framness for jobs well done.

I was sorry that more of you weren't able to attend our June Meeting. Rodger Moldenhauer gave a very good program on Pommeranian Settlements in Wisconsin.

I hope those of you who have been waiting to go to Madison to do genealogical research will take advantage of our planned trip for August 13th. This will replace our regular meeting.

Hope to see many of you at our July meeting at the Marshfield Library. It will be your chance for a hands-on opportunity to learn to use the internet.

WISCONSIN RESOURCES

If you seem to be stumped as to where to look for those hard to find relative in Wisconsin, Ancestry has helped by preparing a list in one of their search engines (<http://www.Ancestry.com>). Not only will it look up a given name in some of the connected resources such as World Tree and the Social Security Death Index, but will give you a list of other common records to check such as cemetery, census, church, court, land & property, land, military, probate, tax, naturalization and vital records. Also listed was Wisconsin general history, Wisconsin manuscripts, maps, newspapers and periodicals. The most interesting was the specific listing of maps and gazetteers related to "Wisconsin". WISCONSIN STATE VETS MUSEUM IS OPENING 1ST ARCHIVES TO THE PUBLIC

The personal papers left by Wisconsin war veterans remain a largely untapped historical resource on the home front. But as the state's sesquicentennial celebrations kick into gear, the Wisconsin Veterans Museum is offering unprecedented public access to that written record.

By opening a new research facility this month beneath its galleries at 30 W. Mifflin St., Madison, WI, the museum for the first time established regular hours when the public can view its collection of state veteran's letters, diaries, manuscripts and recorded oral histories.

Museum director Richard Zeitlen says the move is driven by demand- specifically, by enduring public interest in state veterans' Civil War letters and memoirs and in photographic materials from World War II. "Those are the strengths of our collection," says Zeitlen, "and interest in them is high."

The extensive collection of state veterans' personal papers is non-circulating, but members of the public who complete a researcher registration form may view the materials in the archives from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Photocopies of primary documents are allowed at the discretion of the research center's staff.

Zeitlen urges visitors to phone the center (608) 267-1790, ahead of time and describe the type of material they're looking for. "In an archive of manuscripts, you don't really have an index," he points out. "But we do have finding aids."

GENEALOGIST'S STEW

Take: 1 curious beginner
 Add: 1 age discrepancy
 1 unreadable microfiche
 1 census record written "disappearing ink"
 Fold in: 1 ton of correspondence
 Simmer while awaiting answers.

That's enough to make any Genealogist Stew!
 (Thanks to Elaine Hansen and one of her cousin's several times removed for this "humorous" recipe.)

THE FORMULA

by Rodney A. Biagioni

1 tsp. of grandma's eyes
 2 shakes of Uncle Fred's blonde hair
 A pinch of great grandpa's smile
 As much love as you can give
 Mix well and let rise with time.

MARSHFIELD AREA GENEALOGY GROUP BY-LAW HISTORY

A Board Meeting was held March 28, 1985 to "formalized goals and purposes and to set down by-laws.

These proposed by-laws were then presented at the May 23, 1985 Meeting of the general membership and adopted.

On March 26, 1992 a By-laws Revision Committee of Ruth Pors and Mary Lou Lindow was set. The "primary changes were separation of offices of secretary and treasurer and spelling errors."

The corrections to the By-laws were "voted on and passed unanimously," as recorded in the secretaries minutes of May 28, 1992 of the General meeting of the group.

Then in the summer of 1998, the Audit Committee of Elaine Hansen and Betty Schuster, went over the officer books. Some of the concerns that were expressed by the committee included the number of meetings that the Board of Directors is suppose to have per year as well as the number of Board members that need to be present to conduct business at these meetings. Another concern brought at the general membership meeting in June also was in regard to the length of officer terms.

Please look over this copy of the By-laws for other possible changes/revisions that may need to be made. Bring those concerns to the meeting in July or give to Lorraine Markee. Suggestions will be taken with final revisions being voted on at the Sept. 24, 1998 meeting.
