from the President.....

July 1994

*****

Dear Members;

This has been a very exciting beginning to my year as president. We currently have over 75 paid members and nearly 30 exchange newsletters that we are sharing information with.

Summer is well under way and members are traveling all over doing their "fair weather" research and coming home with many interesting stories to share at our monthly meetings. Summer is also a busy time for Family and Class Reunions. Don't give up this important opportunity to "Catch up on the latest" with those family and friends you haven't seen for years. You just never know when or where you'll find that new lead to help you on your family tree.

I'm also excited about our Five Generation Pedigree Chart project. It is now taking form with over 115 pedigree charts. Thank you to all who sent one in. Hopefully, it will be to press before the end of July and be ready for distribution at our August "Open House". Exact cost still is not available, sorry!

The Marshfield Public Library is now ready for our volunteers to work on putting information into the computer for our Necrology Indexing project. Call Lori at the library for more information and to set up times to work.

I want to take this opportunity to thank my new officers for a good job during our transition stage. Although everyone is still learning their new responsibilities we have been working together to form an efficient system of sharing information. To help get the "Bugs" out of "our system", I've planned our first Board Meeting for 6:15 p.m. at our July meeting. If any board member has a conflict with this, please contact me.

Welcome to our new members Dave Braun and Russell and Sheila Spindler. A very special thank you to Jane Braun, our past president and to her board of officers and directors for a job well done.

Enjoy the rest of your summer and happy researching.

As Always,

Vickie A. Schnitzler
MAGG President

MILITARY RECORDS AT STATE ARCHIVES

(Last months Kith and Kin, V11 #1, p 8 listed archives from Kansas through Massachusetts as a continued list - it was actually the middle of the list, this is the beginning! ed)

The State Archives will often have information not available at the national level. Some states have great facilities, and others (often due to a lack of funding) don't.

One of the advantages of writing to the State Archives is that you will get a response back much faster than when you write to the National Archives. If your soldier is Confederate, you must write to the state in which he served. Pension records for confederate soldiers are only kept at the State Archives. If the soldier was in the state militia and not a volunteer then he will have no records in the National Archives.

Most states will send a brief abstract of a particular soldier at no cost to you. The following list of addresses by state was downloaded from the Genealogical Club of America Online.

NEW IN THE LIBRARY....

Recent additions to the MAGG library:

G-161 Ancestry's Concise Genealogical Dictionary. Maurine and Glen Harris. Ancestry

Do you often feel that your research time is wasted looking up words like "geamster", "grimgribber", "Anascara" and "Wainbote"? Ancestry's Concise Genealogical Dictionary is the remedy - an absolutely essential quick-reference source geared for the needs of the genealogist. This handy and specialized dictionary will help the researcher overcome the one problem most frequently encountered when examining sources: unfamiliar and obsolete terms. The authors spent years collecting, researching and verifying definitions of terms they discovered in the course of researching cemetery, probate, court, medical and other records. This is a must-have reference tool for home, office or briefcase. Carry it to your research site and get more out of your research time.

G-162 Writing the Family Narrative. Lawrence P. Gouldrup, PhD.

Written for the genealogist who has compiled scores of pedigree charts and family group sheets and has spent years going over forgotten manuscripts, staring into dimly-lit microfilm readers... here is a clear, concise, and highly readable explanation of how to write your family history. This book helps the reader understand how to bring all those seemingly disjointed facts together into a final narrative which entertains as well as informs. Illustrated with stylistic examples by both novices and professionals. Writing the Family Narrative takes you step-by-step through the literary process to help you avoid superficial breadth and develop your narrative with a definite focus. Writing the Family Narrative was written for genealogists by a genealogist who knows how overwhelming your task can be.

G-163 The Adoption Searchbook by Mary Jo Rillera.

Wanting to know and wanting to search are two different things. Searching involves the active pursuit of information, determination and a desire to challenge the unknown. Wanting to know may be passive curiosity, denial, or comfort in the known. Everyone intimately involved in adoption has moments when they want to know. Wanting to know is natural. Birth parents may have times when they wonder if their surrendered child is alive, well, and normal. Adoptees may wonder who they look like or why they were given up. Adoptive parents may need additional medical, emotional, or developmental data on the genetic background of their child. This book will help any novice to better understand both the searching process and the specific difficulties. The author offers many helpful hints for overcoming setbacks.

G-165 German-English Genealogical Dictionary. By Ernest Thode. Balto, 1992

This book is designed for the family researcher who has little or no knowledge of German but who nevertheless needs to make a translation of German Language documents. The dictionary covers thousands of German terms and defines them in single words or brief phrases. All words, symbols, and abbreviations in the dictionary were chosen on the basis of their association with genealogy, having been noted in church records, civil registration records, family correspondence, genealogical journals, ships' passenger lists and emigration records. Among the many categories of entries included in the dictionary are family relationships, days of the week, map terms, legal terms, cardinal and ordinary numbers, roman numerals, signs of the zodiac, coins, liquid and dry measures, measures of length, place names, historical territories, geographical terms, occupations, titles, military ranks, types of taxes, illnesses, calendar days, male and female given names, heraldry, abbreviations, books of the Bible, and common genealogical words from Danish, Dutch, French, Latin and Polish. In conjunction with a standard German-English dictionary, the user of this work should be able to make a word-by-word translation of any German document.

PRE-WWII PEACETIME DRAFT
FIRST 200 DRAFTEES
CLARK COUNTY WISCONSIN

In October, 1940, America launched the first peace time draft. A little more than a year later, it was wartime after the Pearl Harbor bombin. President Roosevelt announced "the tragic circumstances in lands across the sea which have forced upon our nation the need to take measures for total defense You will be members of any army which first came together to achieve independence and to establish certain fundamental rights for all men. Ever since that first muster, our democratic army has existed for one purpose only: "The defense of our freedom"

The first 200 persons in the draft of Clark County are listed below.

GENEALOGY COURSES FALL 1994

Opportunities to learn the methods of genealogical research will be available this fall via Educational Teleconference Network (ETN). ETN is an audio network that transmits over telephone lines to more than 170 sites around Wisconsin (Marshfield's is the UW Center). Each classroom has an amplifier and microphones for participants to listen and interact with the instructor. No technical skill is required. All courses are taught by James Hansen, reference librarian and genealogist for the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

Introduction to Genealogical Research

ETN Weds, Sep. 7 - Oct 5, 7 - 8:20 pm

This course is for beginners in genealogical research. It focuses mainly on American information sources, particularly those in Wisconsin and the Eastern states, with some attention to European sources. Lectures discuss basic procedures and access to courthouse, library, census and cemetery records.

Advanced Genealogy

ETN: Weds, Oct 19 - Nov 16, 7 - 8:20 pm

This series is for those who have progressed beyond elementary genealogical research. Presentations cover research techniques, access to records, identification of new sources, and solutions to difficult problems.

Fee for ETN class = $25 per course. To register contact Registration office, Room 105, Wisconsin Center, 702 Langdon St., Madison WI 53706. (608)-262-2452.

Correspondence Course: Intro to Genealogy

For those who wish to study at home and at their own pace, this course provides a solid background in the techniques of tracing one's family tree. In addition to 13 reading assignments, students take three research trips (to a county courthouse, a library, and a church or cemetery) and submit a brief written report on each. Students also produce a research project.

Fee: $40.00. To register, contact University of Wisconsin-Extension, Independent Study, 227 Extension Bldg., 432 N. Lake St., Madison, WI 53706. (608) 262-2011 or (800) 442-6460.

FRENCH-CANADIAN MATERIALS BROWN COUNTY LIBRARY

The French Canadian book collection at the BCL received a major boost in 1993. The addition of over 250 volumes on French-Canadian research brings the collection to over 400 volumes and makes it one of the best in a Public Library in Wisconsin. In addition to volumes which focus on individual parishes in Quebec Province there are approximately 20 books that are about French-Canadian immigrants and/or communities in specific communities in New England.

PHOTOGRAPH FADING STUDIED

According to the new book The Permanance and care of Color Photographs by Henry Wilhelm, Fujicolor SFA3 paper, introduced in 1992, can withstand 50 years of display without color change. Kodak Ektacolor and other papers (including Fuji papers) have a predicted "display life" of only 12 years. If you have negatives and want new prints for display, ask your photo studio what paper they use.

POST-IT "NO-NO"

From the College & Research Library News: DON'T put that handy little Post-it note on library materials or you could cause staining and permanent damage. They were designed for short-term use on non-permanent materials. After a month or two the adhesive hardens and leaves a film that becomes acidic. Post-its are also unfriendly to newsprint (check the reverse side of the note and you will see that the type has been lifted off the newsprint). Removal of Post-its left for more than a month or two on brittle paper causes the paper to tear.

ACCESSING THE 1930-1990
CENSUS

A small branch of the Bureau of the Census called AGE Search will, for $25, search any two census records, 1930 - 1990, for your name or for that of a direct ancestor for whom you can provide proof of death. the search is limited to the person for whom you are requesting information, but you may ask for other members of the family to be included for $2 for each additional person. You can also request a full line of information for an additional $6. For the basic fee, the Census Bureau, if successful, will send you an official document giving you the person's name, age, place of birth, citizenship, and the name of the relationship to the head of the household. Form Bc-600, which is necessary to request a search, may be obtained at your local Social Security office or by writing Bureau of the Census, "Age Search", P.O. Box 1545, Jeffersonville, IN 47131. In the place on the form requesting the purpose of the search, family researchers should indicate "Genealogical Research".

CENTER FOR GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH PLANNED
GREIFSWALD: POMERANIA

The descendents of German emigrants in all the world are increasingly interested in their ancestors and their origins. Especially in the USA, the trend "Back to the Fathers" is very strong; long journeys are not avoided in order to get closer to the origins of one's own family. Ancestor tourism and the "genealogy tours" could develop into an important commercial factor if it were possible to concentrate this kind of cultural and educational travel in one region.

The Augsburgger sociologist and ethnologist Dr. Wolfgang Knabe, feels the city of Greifswald is especially well suited for this. He would like to develop an Institute for Ancestor Research, professionally managed and privately financed. Greifswald offers advantages for such an undertaking; it is a University location where access to old archives and interdisciplinary collaboration is possible; furthermore, Mecklenburg, Pomerania and Silesia were the starting point of a large emigration movement in the previous century. Approximately 400,000 fled hunger during that time to the USA, Brazil, Australia and Scandinavia.

Construction of the institute planned by Dr. Knabe should begin as soon as next year. In spite of the high cost, one would like to manage without public means. The finances are to be undertaken by sponsors. Later the Institute will carry itself through the contributions of the ancestor searchers... In return, they will receive qualified information about the homeland of their grandfathers and mothers.

A further attraction for the tourist business could be a yet to be constructed museum of "Emigrant Experiences" in Greifswald. This museum could document the 500 year history of German emigrants and their cultural and commercial accomplishments in foreign lands.

KITH AND KIN BACK ONLINE!

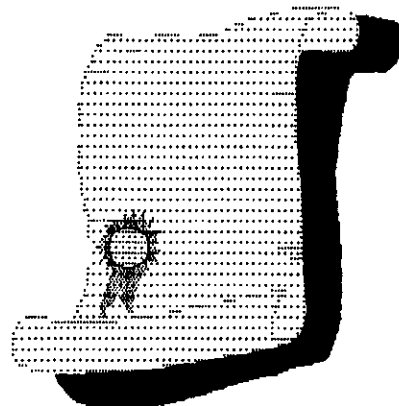

Starting with this volume (V #11) the Marshfield Area Genealogical Group newsletter, Kith and Kin, is again available on the Twilight Zone computer bulletin board system (BBS) on a delayed basis. Due to the untimely death of Dr. Lou Hacker who began the submission of the newsletter via his home computer modem, several issues will be missing (mainly last year's volume 10). Unless the original files are found, these will not be available.

Those with a computer and MODEM may download the files at (715) 652-2758. For example Kith and Kin volume 11 may be found in the Genealogy Files area number 490 as a file MAGG_11.ZIP. The files are downloaded as compressed (zipped) files which must be expanded using PKUNZIP on your home computer. Any comments or questions should be addressed to the Kith and Kin newsletter editor.
