NOVEMBER/DECEMBER MEETING

Our November/December Meeting will be held at the Marshfield Clinic in Conference Room LL-207. There will be "Just an Old-Fashioned Pot-luck" of everyone's favorite foods. Please bring your own dishes, silverware, and beverage. If you have a specific "Christmas Food" that you want to share, bring it along for the pot-luck, which begins as 6:00 p.m.

After the meal, the program of "Sharing Your Favorite Antique Christmas Ornament" will start about 7:00 p.m. Everyone is encouraged to bring an ornament and share their story of where it came from and/or why that ornament is your favorite.

There will be a short business meeting following the program. For anyone wishing to use the library, call Vickie at 387-4044, with specific titles and call numbers that you wish to check out. She will bring ordered items only to the meeting. The entire library will not be brought to this meeting. If you have materials to return, bring them along to the meeting or drop them off at the house.

NEW FAMILY HISTORY CENTER

The Oshkosh Church of Latter Day Saints now has its own Family History Center! The address is 2828 Scenic Drive, off Oakwood Road near Highway 21. Hours are Wednesday, 9 a.m.-noon, 1-5 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.; Thursday, 6:30-8:30 p.m. Call (414) 232-3612 and leave a message for an appointment for Saturdays.

1996 ROOM SCHEDULE FOR MAGG MEETINGS

The following schedule has been set by the Marshfield Clinic for our meetings during 1996. Due to pre-scheduled conferences, etc. we will not be in LL-207 of the Marshfield Clinic for all of our meetings. Please make a note on your calendars regarding where each month's meeting will be held. Hopefully this won't be too confusing if we get organized early.

January 25	Mfld. Clinic	G627, G628, & G629
February 22	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
March 28	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
April 25	Lawton Center	R1C
May 23	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
June 27	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
July 25	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
August 22	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
September 26	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
October 24	Mfld. Clinic	LL207
December 5	Mfld. Clinic	LL207

All meetings are set to start at 7:00 p.m. Due to other meetings scheduled in the same room (LL207) there may be times that we might not be able to get into the room until just before 7:00 p.m. If this seems to become a problem with library use, we will need to make additional room changes.

DODGE COUNTY RESEARCH

If you need to do Dodge County Research don't overlook a trip to the Hartford History Room located in the Hartford Public Library, second floor of City Hall, 109 N. Main, Hartford, WI. The History Room hours are 9:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m. on the first and third Thursdays, of the month. There are no evening hours in December, however. Hartford is located in the S.W. section of Washington County.

Some items available are area family and business histories, church and cemetery records, plat maps, etc. Some current projects include indexing Hartford newspapers, indexing plat maps, up-dating and indexing cemetery and church records to list just a few.

Also while in the area you may want to stop at the Neosho Museum which is open December - April only on the second Sunday of the month 1-4 p.m. otherwise an appointment is necessary. For additional information contact: Shirley Hess, 215 Cedar, Hartford, WI 53027.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

November 1995

Dear Members:

As I sit here by my computer on our "first snow day" from school, I look around at the stacks of things to do and wonder if I'll get everything done. Then I think about how lucky everyone else must be not to have as many stacks...or do they? If you are one of those lucky people with no stacks or only a few, please start thinking about sharing some of your spare time to help out the rest of us.

Thanks to Lorraine Markee and Lucille Leick, our necrology project is a lot farther than it was a year ago. People like Florence Schuette and Kathlene Englebretson have helped to make Lorraine and Lucille's job a little lighter. But what about the rest of you? The project is still a long ways from being done.

The Marshfield History Project is underway. A sheet was passed around at the last meeting for people to reserve a spot in the book for their family history. Out of 30 members in attendance only 9 names appeared on the sheet at the end of the evening. This is a FREE way to publish a short story (500 words) about your family and/or your ancestors that were in the area. Even if you weren't raised in the Marshfield area but live here now, it is important to record your family's story as a part of Marshfield's history. You don't need to be an inventor or famous doctor, or politically inclined...just be you and write a story about you and your family.

We have a vacancy in our slate of officers for a program chairperson. You'll notice also that there are no programs set for 1996. Our past program chairperson is now secretary and asked four months ago to have a replacement. No one has volunteered!

It is rather sad to read through some of the other newsletters from our exchanges and see we are not the only group with this problem. Some of the groups have handled it by stopping their newsletter publication, while others simply stop meeting and their group soon falls to the wayside as yet another part of history.

We have many new and exciting projects waiting for us to start and complete. But the same few can't do everything. It is time for "everyone" to pitch in. Let's make our group different from some of the others. Get involved and make a difference. Remember New Year's Resolution time is fast approaching. Make your resolution "to get involved in at least one project and see it to it's finish". It'll be a lot easier on all of the rest of the members if you do your part and pitch in.

I do want to take this moment to wish all of the MAGG members and their families a very Merry Christmas and a blessed and prosperous New Year. We all have much to be thankful for. Pass even a little bit of it along to others and the world would be a better place for everyone.

Keep warm and have a good winter.
Sincerely,

Vickie A. Schnitzler
MAGG President

BUFFALO SOLDIERS

The Ninth and Tenth Calvary and the 24th and 25th Infantry were regiments of the "Buffalo Soldier" formed after the Civil War. In 1994 a bronze statue of a black horseman was unveiled at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas in recognition of their military service in the West. Twelve of these soldiers had received a Medal of Honor.

The Cheyenne called them "Buffalo Soldiers" for they believed their hair resembled their sacred buffalo. The buffalo was the Indian's source of income besides being a cultural symbol. They believed the animal's strength and power could be transferred to them. Indian interpretation: the buffalo will face a storm head-on; so, you ought to be like him and face your problems and not run from them. The black soldiers were impressed and adopted the name.

THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

In 1937 a law was passed establishing the Railroad Retirement Board. The RR Board is located at 844 Rush St., Chicago, IL 60611, Phone (312) 751-4776. If your ancestor was a railroad worker in the 1930's or later, his records may be included here. Information can include months employed and earning record, father's name, all addresses, complete medical record, mother's maiden name, social security number, but not spouse's name.

LOOKING FOR YOUR MEXICAN WAR VETERAN?

Descendants of Mexican Veterans is a non-profit Texas organization devoted to honoring the United States Veterans of the War with Mexico (1846-1848) and to the study of that war including the preservation of documents and artifacts. The group, which was started in 1989 in Dallas, is conducting a project to compile the names of every US Veteran of the Mexican War in the form of a book at a later date. The society will check their files for a veteran's name at no charge if a SASE is sent with the request. For information, write to The Descendants of Mexican War Veterans National Office, 1114 Pacific, Richardson, TX 75081.

SWISS NATIONAL TOURIST OFFICE

The Swiss National Tourist Office offers a free brochure titled "A Genealogical How-to for Americans of Swiss Descent." You will receive a three page letter containing information of the Swiss Genealogical Society in Zurich. One of the Society's functions is to collect names and addresses of individuals who are researching Swiss families. This information is available for public use. The Society collects both published and unpublished material of Swiss families. The brochure also lists genealogists in Switzerland, and one genealogist in the U.S. for Swiss research. Contact the: Swiss National Tourist Office, 608 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10020.

BROWN COUNTY REGISTER OF DEEDS HAS NEW ADDRESS

The new location of the Brown Register of Deeds is in the Northern Building at 305 East Walnut Street, Green Bay, WI. Records from before 1880 are in the archives at UWGB. The records from 1880-1990 are stored in a warehouse by a private company. In order to see these, you must find the volume and page number in the index at the courthouse. The probate personnel will have the record brought to the courthouse the following day where you can view it. Those from 1991 to present are at the probate office at the Brown County Court house.

U.W. GREEN BAY - AREA RESEARCH CENTER INDEXES 1875 PLAT MAP

The Area Research Center staff recently completed a two year project to index the Brown County plat map for 1875. Every name on the map have been indexed. To make the index more complete, if only initials were used to designate the owner's name, the staff verified name with the 1875 tax rolls. The index also includes physical features such as creeks and railroad lines as well as the name of specific businesses, schools, cemeteries, etc. The index is arranged alphabetically. If you would like to us this index, just visit the Area Research Center or call them.

THE MOST COMMON MISTAKES IN GENEALOGY

- *Not using family group sheets and pedigree charts.
- *Not contacting relatives for assistance.
- *Assuming that "no one else is working on my line".
- *Not using maps of the area at the time your ancestors lived there.
- *Not knowing the history of the area in which you are researching.
- *Not using common sense when reading other family histories. If sources for information are not listed, be cautious about accepting it. Some information may be hearsay.
- *Gathering information on everyone by "that" surname, unless it is a very uncommon surname.
- *Not using primary sources; Land probate, church, county records, but instead relying on printed histories.
- *Not making photocopies.
- *Not making a master copy. Leave the master copy at home when you travel to do research, and take the duplicate copy with you.
- *Not organizing your records.
- *Not paying attention to the clues your ancestors may have left.
- *Assuming that your surname is "never" spelled a different way.
- *GIVING UP.

MIRROR MAGIC

by Fred G. Mieswinkel (in Ozar'kin)

We have heard of a number of ways to read difficult tombstones, such as rubbing, wire brushes (a no-no), plastic net, Styrofoam, baking soda — and the latest one, shaving cream and a squeegee or sponge.

But we have discovered a method that we have never seen mentioned, which is simple, and has been a great help: a five or six inch bathroom mirror.

Experienced tombstone readers know that some difficult stones may be read when the sun "shadows" the fact at just the right angle. This usually occurs around 12:45 to 1:15 p.m. if the inscription faces west. It depends on the angle of the stone and the time of the year. With a mirror, you can do the same thing virtually any time of the day.

If you are working in the morning, with the sun shining on the back (east side) of the stone, a mirror can be used to reflect light on the west side. Even better, it can be reflected from the side to "shadow" the face of the stone. Moving the mirror to "shadow" from different angles should help in the reading. This has proven very helpful in reading small children's stones, and we have read many of them easily this way. This sometimes helps on old sandstones, too.

(from Palatines to America, IL, April/May 1995 via Fox Valley Gen. Soc. Newsletter, Vol. 14, No. 1, Summer 1995, P. 12.)

GERMAN NAME ENDINGS

Recent surveys have shown that the ...ke German name endings, like Radtke, far outnumber other German name endings like ...ow and ...itz. This is not surprising since the ...ke name ending is an ancient one used by the Saxons from North Germany, around the Hamburg and Bremen area.

As these Plattdeutsch speaking Germans moved east through Mecklenberg, Pomerania and East Prussia, they took their names there. Since the Baltic Sea area of Pomerania was heavily settled by Saxons, the ...ke ending was common in that area. As the Pomeranians later settled in Wisconsin and other states, these states also have many German names ending in ...ke.

IRISH SURNAMES

Are you researching an Irish surname? You may want to contact: The Irish Family Names Association, P.O. Box 2095, La Mesa, CA 91943-2095. To be added to their database, send a list of the surnames you are researching along with a SASE.

(from The Illuminator, Zion Gen. Soc. Newsletter, Vol. 11, No. 3, 1995, P. 9.)

CENSUS TIPS

If you have trouble locating certain ancestors, it could be because of the following census facts:

- 1790 Washington DC is with Montgomery & Prince George's Counties in Maryland.
- 1820-1830 Wisconsin is with the Michigan census.
- 1830 Iowa territory census includes Minnesota.
- 1840 Montana is with Clayton County, IA
- 1860 Colorado is with Kansas census. Montana is found with Nebraska census under "Unorganized Territory."
Nevada is included with Utah census.
Oklahoma is with Arkansas, which was then Indian Land.
Wyoming is with Nebraska.

Prior to 1880 "IA" meant Indiana, not Iowa. Virginia covered many thousands of square miles more than it does now. A reference made to a person having been born in Virginia could mean that he or she was born in part of Illinois (1781-1816); Missouri (1777-1863); North Carolina (1728-1803); Ohio (1728-1803); Pennsylvania (1752-1786); Tennessee (1760-1803); or West Virginia (1796-1863).

(from Grant Co. Heritage via Waukesha County Gen. Soc. Newsletter, Vol. 6, No. 1, August 1995, P. 7.)

RESEARCH IN GERMANY

Have you ever wondered how and where you could place a query or an ad in a German genealogical magazine? Here's the place for you:

Familienkundliche Nachrichten is published six times a year and is devoted entirely to ads for "Missing Ancestors". It has a circulation of over 13,000 and is a very popular way for genealogists to publicize their queries.

Ads cost about $15.00. The publishers prefer payment to be changed into the German currency of Deutsch Marks. Money can be changed at larger banks. Their next choices would be in American cash, or a check which should include an extra $2.00 to cover the expense of changing the money.

The Familienkundliche Nachrichten is published on the first day of January, March, May, July, September, and November. Ads must arrive at the publisher at least six weeks prior to the date of publication.

A written narrative (in English) should detail all that you know about the German background of your family as well as the appropriate date your ancestor emigrated to America. A free copy of the publication will be mailed to you when your ad appears. The address of the publisher is:

Familienkundliche Nachrichten
Verlag Degener 7 Co.
Postfach 1340
D-8530 Neustadt (Aisch)
West Germany

DO YOU HAVE A CIVIL WAR ANCESTOR?

You may be able to obtain a picture of your ancestor by writing to the US Army Military History Institute, Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle, PA 17013-5008. The Institute has a large collection of Civil War photographs.

Accepted Standards of Conduct for Family History Researchers*

- I will be courteous to research facility personnel.
- I will do my homework, and know what is available, and I will know what I want.
- I will dress appropriately for the records office that I am visiting.
- I will not take small children into repositories and research facilities.
- I will not approach the facility asking for "everything" on my ancestors.
- I will not expect the records custodian to listen to my family history.
- I will respect the records custodian's other daily tasks, and not expect constant or immediate attention.
- I will be courteous to other researchers and work with only a few records or books at a time.
- I will keep my voice low when conversing with others.
- I will use only designated areas for my workspace.
- I will not go into off-limits areas without permission.
- I will request permission before using photocopy and microforms machines, and ask for assistance if needed.
- I will treat records with care and respect.
- I will not mutilate, rearrange, or remove from its proper custodian any printed, original, microform, or electronic record.
- I will not force spines on books or handle roughly any original documents.
- I will not use my fingertip or a pencil to follow the line of print on original materials.
- I will not write on records or books.
- I will replace volumes in their proper location and return files to the appropriate places.
- I will not leave without thanking the records custodians for their courtesy in making the materials available.
- I will follow the rules of the records repository without protest.
